

ABSTRACT

The nasal drip cessation or control devices are devices which when strategically placed on the nose, causes the elimination or reduction of the nasal flow of mucus.